The New Online
ID Verification System

TAMPA, Florida, – September 26, 2011 –

HomeSchool ID, the nationally recognized leader in homeschool student identification systems, is pleased to introduce the new Online ID Verification System: ID VERIFY®. Amy Rogers, Managing Director of HomeSchool ID stated “Technology has finally caught up with the mission of HomeSchool ID, to offer Instant Online Verification of HomeSchool Status.”

“We have used our expertise and technology to support the Home Education Market since 2002, filling a very definite need for safety and security,” Rogers said. “Our new secure Online ID VERIFY® system uses the latest technology to support the HomeSchool ID mission. Our commitment is to stand shoulder-to-shoulder with the HomeSchool Student with proof that he is actually homeschooled.”

Michael Rogers, Associate Director of HomeSchool ID, said, “The HomeSchool ID: ID VERIFY® system is designed to meet the recognized need for security and instant identification for homeschooled children at work, play, travel or any other place that an ID card is required. The system allows any Law Enforcement Officer to quickly and easily verify the status of any homeschool when stopped for suspicion of truancy. The HomeSchool ID: ID VERIFY® system has proven to be an efficient tool for Law Enforcement officials to quickly differentiate between public school students skipping school and the home school student participating in a legitimate daytime educational experience. Previously, law enforcement officials had to rely on cumbersome local systems with frequently inaccurate information.”

What is the HomeSchool ID: ID Verify® System?

For many years, homeschoolers have been negatively impacted by both Daytime Curfew and Truancy laws. Strict enforcement of these laws has become a recent priority in communities across the nation. In order to provide homeschoolers with an additional tool to prevent unnecessary arrest, detention, court appearances and fines, HomeSchool ID has created the ID Verify® system.

How Does It Work?

The HomeSchool ID: ID Verify® system embraces the latest web-enabled technologies. Using QR (quick response) Code technology and a smart phone equipped with a free scanning app, any law enforcement officer can instantly access an online document that verifies the student's homeschool status.

The ID Verify® document displays only the student's photo, ID number and name as shown on their physical HomeSchool ID. The match-up will give any officer confidence that the ID is valid, and he is far more likely to send the student on his way with no more hassle.

The ID Verify® HOTLINE is also provided for those officers having additional questions. We respect every homeschool family's right to privacy and will only verify information as shown on the student's HomeSchool ID.

What does this mean for homeschoolers?

Any family using the HomeSchool ID with ID Verify® runs a significantly lower risk of their student being arrested or detained for truancy violations than with any other homeschool student ID card, including ones that are homemade.

The ID Verify® System strengthens the HomeSchool Student ID by providing additional tools for law enforcement officials 24/7/365. So, whether your student is taking a break from school, travelling, vacationing or just playing in the park, you can be assured of his safety and security...giving you peace of mind.
